Saturday Delight
Gin High Tea at the Hyatt Regency Sydney

On Saturdays, the Hyatt Regency Sydney transforms its lobby lounge bar into a space for an unparalleled afternoon tea experience. Unlike traditional spots, this experience packs a unique Australian twist—two included rounds of gin and tonic with a variety of botanical flavors, from elderflower to orange clementine. Accompany your buzz with a gin-infused scallop canapé and a cup of nutty-flavored, native Australian wattleseed breakfast tea. (See #10 on following spread)

Unique High Tea Experiences Around the World

Whether you call it Afternoon Tea, High Tea or simply tea, getting dressed up and feasting on tiny sandwiches, flaky pastries and soothing hot beverages is an indulgence almost anyone can appreciate. Given the practice’s inherently English roots, it’s no surprise that, in 2013, the U.K. government established “Afternoon Tea Week,” occurring the second full week of August. From Zimbabwean oolong to Middle Eastern Darjeeling to partaking in a traditional, matcha-based Japanese tea ceremony or sipping Ceylon in one of New York City’s finest hotels, savor a steaming cup at these spots that hold a bevy of fun, unusual quirks.—OLIVIA BAKER
